INTRODUCTION

WELCOME TO THE CATHOLIC HEALTH AUSTRALIA RESEARCH SYMPOSIUM 2018

The Research Symposium brings together Catholic Health Australia (CHA) researchers from across Australia to encourage networking, learning, to celebrate achievements and ongoing initiatives in research, and importantly – to showcase the essential work being done by all of you, within the Catholic health and aged care sector.

This year's Symposium – the third of its kind for CHA – is packed with valuable content, delivered by distinguished researchers and academics, including Dr. Carrie Hillyard, Deputy Chairman of Mater Medical Research Institute, and a number of accomplished clinical researchers representing CHA's members and the wider research community.

With the valued support of Sponsor AusHSI, CHA is able to hold this Symposium for its members and researchers. We thank AusHSI for its support of Australia's Catholic health sector and dedication to improving research and innovation. Thanks to the support of AusHSI, we will be hosting CHA's first Research Shark Tank competition to showcase the innovative research occurring at our hospitals.

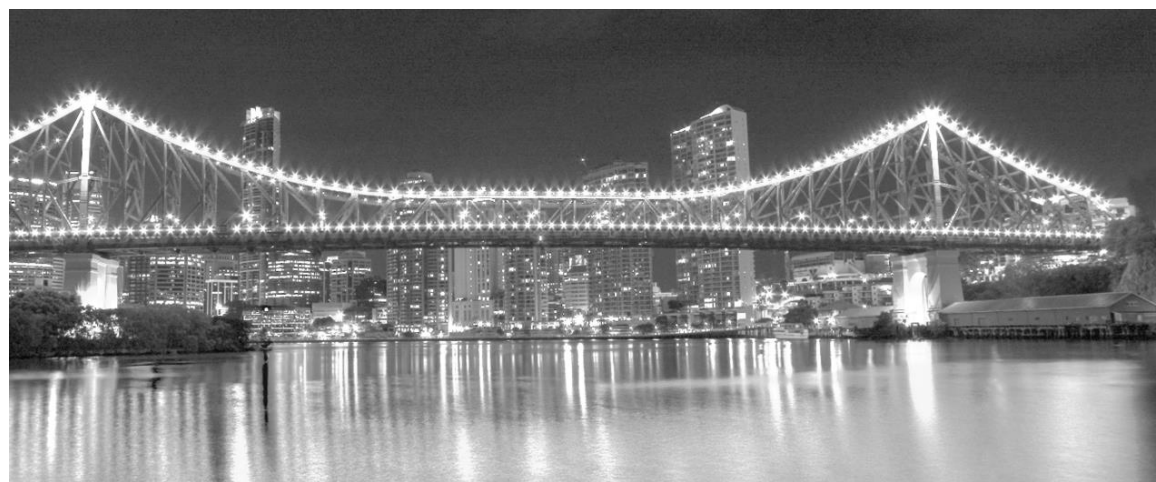

SHARK TANK SPONSOR

PROUD SPONSOR OF OUR RESEARCHERS

The Australian Centre For Health Services Innovation (AusHSI) is a research, consultancy and training organisation. Combining leading-edge knowledge with hands-on, practical experience, AusHSI partners to deliver innovation and improvements for better health services. AusHSI is committed to advancing new ideas with positive impact and championing partnerships between researchers, clinicians and policymakers.

Our expert panellists will hear pitches from excellent researchers representing Catholic Health providers from across the country in the search for cutting-edge ideas for innovation in three categories: biomedical research, clinical research, and health systems and services research. Winners of each category will be awarded $1,000 to put towards their project. Please see CHA's website for further details, and the Shark Tank Application Form.
