WIN $3,000 TO BUILD YOUR IDEA

Innovation in health care is key to maintaining the exceptional reputation of Catholic health and aged care providers across the country. Our expert panellists will hear pitches from our excellent nurses from across the country in the search for cutting-edge ideas for innovation in health service provision.

Following on from the success of last year, we are again holding a 'Shark Tank' session to round off the Nursing & Midwifery Symposium. The session will run from 3.00pm-4.15pm on Friday 1 November at Pan Pacific Melbourne.

We are looking for creative forward thinkers who can pitch their idea to our team of three panellists. The panel will be made up of experts from health, academic and corporate backgrounds. Each entry can be either an individual or a team of two maximum. All chosen candidates will have their registration fees for the Symposium waived.

The pitch will last for three minutes and will need to include an introduction of the team, followed by the concept, why it's relevant, and the project outcomes. This information needs to be succinctly described in the application form below, however the pitch on the day need only be based upon this information. The pitchers will then be asked questions by each of the panellists, with question time lasting for two minutes maximum.

Each pitch and questions will last for five minutes total. The audience and the panellists will then be asked to vote on the idea, with each representing 50% of the vote. First prize will receive $3,000, second prize $2,000 and third prize $1,000 which will be announced at the end of the session.

Completed applications should include a short PowerPoint presentation to accompany the pitch and be submitted to Stephanie Panchision at stephaniep@cha.org.au by COB Friday 11 October.

WHAT WE'RE LOOKING FOR

Shark Tank Applications should showcase existing or current research projects being undertaken within CHA facilities. These projects should be underpinned by research methodological and highlight methods of improving nursing practice, research and patient care.

Nine successful applicants will be invited to present at the Symposium. All applications will be considered by a committee of CHA experts with successful applicants decided based on the information provided on the application form below.

First prize will receive $3,000, second prize $2,000 and third prize $1,000 which will be announced at the end of the session. The member organisation's Director of Nursing representative on our committee will have overall approval of how these funds are spent.
